

Forker announces that he is for Sherman for President. It matters very little who is Forker's choice. The people prefer Cleveland and will keep him where he is.

Nearly every Kentucky editor who has mentioned the explosion here last week, including the headlines of the Louisville dailies, has slipped up in trying to spell the word "Naphtha."

The Emperor, of Germany is thought to be on his death-bed and the Crown Prince is threatened with a fatal throat disease. Perhaps Blaine could get a job on that side of the water.

The small vote polled for the prohibition tickets in New York and other States last week again emphasizes the fact that prohibition, if results are to be accomplished, must be kept out of politics.

The corrected returns from New York put the majority of Cook over Grant at something over 17,800. In 1884, 11,000; in 1886, 11,000; in 1887, 17,000. These figures tell the tale. Good-bye Bro. Blaine.

Owensboro caps the climax of natural gas yams. The Louisville Post's voracious correspondent is authority for the statement that a crawfish hole near Owensboro sends out a stream of gas, which being ignited burns sixty feet into the air. Mulhatten, look to your laurels.

Seven little anarchists
In quite a bad fix—
One blew his head off
And then there was six.

Six bad dynamiters
All sentenced to hang,
Two got a pardon—
And left four in the gang.

It is announced from Washington that Don W. Dickenson, of Michigan, has written to President Cleveland accepting his offer of the position of Postmaster General. The story is that Vilas is to be transferred to the Interior Department and Lamar to the Supreme Bench.

We have very few suggestions to make to the next Legislature, but for the sake of the poor debtors who have their property sold under execution, we hope to see an advertising law passed under which sales will be advertised in newspapers instead of being posted on the court house door, as at present.

The taxation of three of her suburbs increases the population of Chicago to 887,000. This gives her the third place in the list of American cities, and puts her so far ahead of St. Louis that there need be no further disputes about their respective populations. Our four largest cities are New York with 1,481,920, Philadelphia with 933,801, Chicago with 887,000 and Brooklyn with 757,000 inhabitants.

The result in New York has effectually retired Blaine and the Republicans are now busy looking for a Moses to lead them to the promised land. The man who can carry New Jersey and Connecticut can secure the place at the head of the ticket next year. They will put Benny Harrison on the tail of the ticket and believing they can buy West Virginia they are still hopeful of electing a President without New York. It looks now as if their strongest ticket would be William Walter Phelps, of New Jersey, and Benjamin Harrison, of Indiana.

A bloody riot occurred in London Sunday, which has not been equalled since 1869. Four thousand policemen took possession of Trafalgar Square early in the day and kept it though enormous crowds attempted to break their lines. There were several fights in which the police used their batons freely. The mob finally increased to 100,000 people and it was finally necessary to call out the military. Although there were 200 persons wounded, no lives were lost. The rioters used only their fists, instead of resorting to dynamite and firearms as was done in Chicago last year.

Among the December magazines "Peterson" stands out prominently in its freshness and interest. It is really astonishing how bright and youthful this old favorite keeps; the only thing that reminds one of its age is the remembrance that it has been a welcome monthly guest since one's childhood; a periodical essentially for the family, possessing elements of interest for all, from the oldest to the youngest. This has been a year of exceptional interest and excellence; its engravings and illustrations have never been better, and regarded from a literary point of view, we may assert that it has never before reached the same standard. It has given stories and serials from some of the most popular writers in America, and its prospectus for the forthcoming year is even richer in promise. Nearly a half-century of useful and successful progress has taught us to place entire confidence in the friend of countless households, and we look forward to its efforts in 1888 proving a complete triumph, both as a literary and illustrated magazine. The price is only Two Dollars per year, with large reductions when taken in clubs, and elegant premiums to those getting up clubs. Sample-copies free to those desiring to get up clubs. Address Peterson's Magazine, 306 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The End of the Anarchists.

The seven Chicago Anarchists condemned to death have been disposed of. One committed suicide the day before he was to hang, the Governor commuted the sentence of two and the other four were duly executed on last Friday.

FIELDEN AND SCHWAB ESCAPE.

On the morning of the 10th Gov. Oglesby announced that he had decided to commute the sentence of Sam Fielden and Michael Schwab to life imprisonment and let the law take its course with the others. This was not unexpected, as the officers of the court that convicted the Anarchists had signed the petition of these two.

LINGG SUICIDES.

Louis Lingg, the worst one of the gang, had all along declared that he would not be hanged. On Sunday of last week four bombs made of gas pipes were taken from him, which had been conveyed to him in some mysterious manner. In spite of the renewed vigilance of the guards, he got hold of a dynamite cap or cartridge with which he committed suicide Thursday morning. The cap was from 1 1/2 to 2 inches long. It was made of copper and the outer end plugged with a piece of lead. The copper was filled with dynamite. There came a small portion of fulminate of mercury, a powder similar to that used in percussion caps. Into this powder ran a fuse. Lingg deliberately placed this deadly explosive in his mouth and lit the fuse with the candle left in his cell. A fearful explosion started the guards and when they reached his cell Lingg was lying in a pool of blood with his face blown into an unrecognizable mass of bloody shreds. The suicide lingered for several hours, notwithstanding the horrible condition he was in.

A QUADRUPEL HANGING.

August Spies, Adolph Fischer, Albert R. Parsons and George Engel were hanged in the jail yard at 11:57 a. m. There was no disturbance of any kind. The trap was sprung by Sheriff Canute R. Matson and Engel's neck was the only one broken. The other three were strangled to death. Spies last words were: "There will come a time when our silence will be more powerful than the voices they are strangling to death." Fischer and Engel both died with the words "Hurrah for Anarchy" on their lips and Parsons was begging to be allowed an opportunity to speak when the trap fell. His last words were: "Let the voice of the people be heard." All of the men died game. The bodies were turned over to the families of the dead and were interred on Sunday. The Mayor granted permission for a funeral procession to be had, but refused to allow any speeches to be made.

OFF FOR THE PEN.

Fielden and Schwab were taken to the Joliet penitentiary Saturday, where they will remain during the remainder of their lives. Their heavy beards were cut off and they at once donned the striped garb of felons.

THE CRIME.

During the strikes of last year August Spies called a mass meeting at the Haymarket, in Chicago, and an immense throng assembled. Incendiary speeches were made by Spies, Parsons, Fielden and others. An extra detail of police were ordered to disperse the meeting. Immediately a dynamite bomb was thrown and Matthias Degan and five other policemen were killed and many others wounded. The police fired into the mob and a number of the Anarchists were killed and the rest put to flight. Seven of the ring leaders were arrested and their trial began on June 21st. Parsons, who had escaped, walked into the court room and gave himself up and asked to be tried with the others. The seven named above were sentenced to death and Neelbe, the eighth, to life imprisonment. The case went up from court to court until the U. S. Supreme court had passed upon it, declining to interfere. Then three of the condemned—Spies, Schwab and Fielden—threw themselves upon the mercy of the Governor with the result above given. The other four refused to beg for mercy.

Of the seven men Spies was 23 years old and editor of the Arbeiter Zeitung. He was born in Hesse and came to America in 1872. He was unmarried, though a cranky young fellow named Nina Van Zandt was married to him by proxy last summer, his brother representing him at the alleged ceremony.

Parsons was born in Montgomery, Ala., in 1848 and was a Confederate soldier. He subsequently edited the Spectator, a weekly paper at Waco, Tex. He married a mulatto in 1872 and was forced to leave Texas. He became editor of the Alarm at Chicago in 1884. He leaves two children and a wife who is a worse Anarchist than he was.

Lingg was 23 years old and was born in Germany. He had been in this country but five years. He was a carpenter and bomb-maker. He leaves no family.

Fischer was 30 years old and also a native of Germany. He was a printer and formerly worked on a paper in Nashville, Tenn. He leaves a wife and children.

Engel was born in Germany in 1836 and came to America in 1873. He was a rabid socialist and anarchist. He leaves a wife and children. His business was keeping a small cigar store.

Sam'l Fielden was born in England in 1847 and in early manhood was a Methodist preacher. He came to New York in 1868 and for 16 years worked as a laborer. In 1880 he be-

The Ohio Valley Road.

(Clarksville Democrat.)

It is reported that the Ohio Valley railroad will soon make a proposition to our citizens for aid in the construction of their road to this place. This road runs now from Henderson on the Ohio river to a point near Princeton, at which it intersects the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad. It has, we are informed, something more than eighty miles of road now in successful operation and has a contract with Hopkinsville, Ky., by which it is to have its line to that place completed by next Spring. If this is so we will soon have a formidable rival to the Louisville & Nashville at our doors and knocking for admission, and it certainly stands up in hand to give any proposition it may see fit to offer a serious consideration before rejecting it.

If the time ever comes when Hopkinsville can offer cheaper rates to New York on tobacco than we can, our prestige as a tobacco market will be gone. Indeed we cannot at all afford to have a competing line of railway stop twenty-five miles out of town. It must come here if it gets that near, or Clarksville must give up all pretensions to being a town. What we lost by the failure to get the I. A. & T. as it was originally projected can hardly be estimated. The fact that the L. & N. was willing to pay (as it did) more than two hundred thousand dollars for the privilege of building a line to Princeton, which it didn't need, shows what competition would do for Clarksville.

If the L. & N. can afford to throw away $200,000 rather than have competition, we certainly can afford to pay something to get competition. We do not know what the proposition of the new railroad will be when it comes, or indeed that any proposition will be made at all. We do say that if the Ohio Valley will offer us a new line and give us satisfactory guarantees that it will continue to be run and operated as a competing line to the L. & N., we should be very much in our own light not to accept the proposition, if we could afford to accept it.

(Evansville Journal.)

The completion of the Ohio Valley Railway to Princeton adds another outlet to Evansville's Southern business, and opens up a comparatively new field for the merchants. The C. O. & S. W. R. R. have just changed the time of their trains—making close and certain connections at Princeton with the Ohio Valley for Paducah, Memphis and all points South and Southwest, with only one change of cars, thus making the shortest and quickest line to the South.

Parties leaving here on the steamer Frank Stein at 10:15 a. m. can reach Paducah at 5:15 p. m. and Memphis at 11:30 p. m. the same night.

The Ohio Valley is in the hands of live, energetic men, who are rapidly making a valuable property of it, and who never fail to assist their patrons in every way possible, being liberal, generous and courteous. The Ohio Valley Railway intends opening here in the near future, when they will show every attention to the needs and comforts of their friends and patrons.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years Doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure now on the market. It is taken internally in doses from ten drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circular and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 cents.

HERE AND THERE.

Born to the wife of Col. L. A. Sypert, on the 12th inst., a boy.

Born to the wife of Mr. C. G. Layne, on the 11th, a 12 pound boy.

The wind took off the hat of a gentleman on Main street the other day and lodged it on the bustle of a lady who was passing. Both parties were considerably embarrassed by the incident.

Hopkinsville got some small favors this month in the Louisiana Lottery. Bruce Snell drew $39 and Penny Turner and Hanson Dulin $15 together and other parties got small approximate prizes.

Ella Rowland and Fannie Bradshaw, both colored, were in the City Court yesterday for fighting Saturday night. The first named was pretty badly hurt in the affray. The Bradshaw girl was fined $10 and costs.

The Democrat urges the businessmen of Clarksville to aid in the building of a $10,000 hotel for the accommodation of colored people exclusively. The colored people brope to raise half of the amount needed.

The Tobacco Board of Trade has re-organized for the ensuing season by electing the following corps of officers: viz: Nat. Galtier, President; Geo. V. Green, Vice-President; Geo. V. Thompson, Second Vice-President; Thos. P. Fairleigh, Secretary.

By a vote of 102 to 82 the Elton district has decided to establish graded schools and a building will be begun at once. The following gentlemen constitute the School Board and have the matter in hand: Jno. F. Bell, Ben. T. Perkins, Dr. A. McKinney, R. W. Bradshaw, Thos. H. Stokes, G. W. Millen and J. A. Armstrong. The building will be a $10,000 brick structure, the location of which has not yet been settled.

Adolph Fischer, the Anarchist, said as he stood upon the gallows, with the hangman's noose pressing his neck: "It is the happiest moment of my life." Col. Winfield, of Henderson, Ky., says, "He surely had never tasted his life 'Old Silk Velvet' Whisky, which he sells for $2.00 per gallon, the whole year round, or he would certainly have felt better than he did on that eventful morning."

News that a fearful railroad accident was narrowly averted near Henderson Sunday night was received yesterday. A bridge was burned some miles south of Henderson and the 10 o'clock express was stopped just in time to avoid a tumble in the darkness. A light was displayed but the engineer did not see it in time to stop until the engine was on the very brink. The bridge was repaired and trains were running as usual yesterday.

Cy. Brown received a mysterious looking package from Louisville by express Saturday, which upon being opened was found to contain a peculiar looking bomb, supposed to be similar to those used by the Anarchists, in Chicago. It is a ferocious looking weapon, calculated to startle those not used to seeing such things. Mr. Brown does not know who sent it, but supposes it came from some friend who thought he would like to see what kind of tools the Anarchists use in their business.

The Amateur Operatic Company, of Henderson, composed of home talent, scored a decided triumph last week in presenting "Laredo; or The Tourists," an opera written and composed especially for them by Prof. J. M. Bach and Mr. Ingram Crockett. Our young friend and brother editor, Starling Marshall, of the Journal, assumed one of the leading characters. There are ten members of the company all possessing talent of a high order. If they could be induced to present their opera in this city we feel sure our people would give them a cordial welcome.

Geo. H. Smith fired off a gun several times Thursday afternoon on the streets, while under the influence of liquor. He hired a turn-out from Canaler's stable and drove about the city firing off a revolver and a shot gun, until the police followed him out on the Princeton road and arrested him. He resisted arrest by pointing the gun at Chief Biggstaff, but the weapon was taken from him and he was locked up. Smith was tried before Judge Brasher Friday and fined $60 for reckless shooting and was then turned over to Esq. Tinsley, who fined him $12 for fast driving and defrauding the toll-gate keeper.

Lewis Boyd col., a festive darkey from over the Kentucky line, was pulled last Saturday night by policemen Stafford and Giesley and constable Sam Dabney. Lewis had jumped the chain gang at Paducah, and the officers were notified that he was hanging round this place. They spotted their man at the Blue House and nabbed him. He resisted vigorously, but was too hopelessly in the minority to escape. After the arrest Boyd was found to be an alias, his real name being Hester. Ten years ago he shot a man near Lafayette and escaped, not being heard of until arrested here. He will probably be sent to Hopkinsville for trial—Clarksville Democrat.

Unless the party arrested last Wednesday, who killed a man at a negro dance some years ago, at Lafayette, is known of the shooting referred to by the authorities here. No communication had been received by the sheriff in regard to the matter yesterday.

Geo. H. Smith, who was fined $72 last week, was unable to pay the fines and is still in the city lock-up.

Prayer meetings are still being held at the Baptist church every evening. Miss Dora Nell joined the church Sunday. Three young ladies are now awaiting baptism.

Miss Alice Hays will sell you felt hats at 50 cents each, and silk beavers at $1.75. Fancy feathers from 25 cts. to $1.00. Also bargains in ostrich tips and plumes.

John Savage, who drew the $25 cash prize in the Andrew Novelty Co's drawing Thursday night, under an arrangement with the manager, declined to return the money after it had been paid to him and he is still that much ahead.

The publishers of "Southern Society and Drama," 92 and 94 Main Street, Norfolk, Va., desire a correspondent in this section to attend theatres and society meetings and forward reports of same. Credentials for admittance furnished. Address with stamped envelope.

Mrs. Jas. W. Moore, an old resident of the Longview neighborhood, died at her home Wednesday morning, of paralysis. Her remains were interred in the family burying ground yesterday morning. Mrs. Moore left four children to mourn their loss—Tobacco Leaf.

The county clerk has issued marriage licenses to the following couples since our last report: W. D. Stowe to Miss Annie K. Edwards, J. L. Hamby to Missie McIntosh, J. L. Pollard to Miss Belle McConnell, Jas. Darrell to Miss Mary F. Hooper, Geo. F. Shelton to Miss Elizabeth Hall, Linn Leath to Miss Annie Henley.

The grocery store of the late Geo. W. Lindsay, of Cadiz, constituting a part of his estate, was sold last week by the Administrators. Hill Morgan, the young man who managed the business during Dr. Lindsay's long illness and who has been running the store since his death, was the purchaser.

At a called meeting of the stockholders of the Christian Co. A. & M. A., held Nov. 7, 1887, the following officers were elected: W. T. Radford, president; H. B. Garner, C. A. Thompson, Dr. J. P. Peyton, E. W. Walker and Judge W. P. Winfree, directors; John W. McPherson, secretary. The object of re-organizing was to have a directory properly authorized and empowered to sell the fair grounds.

The Clarksville correspondent of the Nashville American under date of Nov. 12, sends this notice of the death of a well-known citizen of Todd county: "Mr. Thos. Beasley, of Todd County, died yesterday. Mr. Beasley lived near the big pond, just across the Kentucky line, ten miles from Clarksville. He was about 47 years of age and weighed, when in good health, 485 pounds. He was a successful farmer, in good circumstances, generous and social in his nature. It required a strong buggy and two horses to carry him about in his ordinary business relations, and he was sufficiently active to get in and out of his buggy and walked about with convenience. He was quite a show and very sensitive to the gaze of the curious. He was married about twelve years ago to Miss Tatt, a very delicate looking little lady, who has had, perhaps, two or three children."

Patti Rosa.
Hopkinsville is to have another first-class theatrical performance, after so long a time. Patti Rosa, the charming little soubrette, who delighted our people a season or two ago, will be here two nights this week. On Thursday night she will play "Bob" and on Friday night will present "Zips." Both of these are excellent plays and are adapted especially to her style of acting. The little favorite will be greeted by full houses on both evenings, if merit avails anything. Prices 50 and 75 cents.

MARRIED.
After rain follows sunshine STOWE—EDWARDS—On the evening of the 8th inst. there was a happy gathering at the hospitable home of Mr. J. R. Caudle. The occasion was the marriage of Mr. W. Dudley Stowe to Miss Nannie M. Edwards. As the evening advanced the rising dust clouds and rumbling of rapid wheels announced the coming of other guests. Soon the parlors and halls were filled and smiling faces and cheerful voices greeted each other.

The company indulged in pleasant conversation until the appointed time for the marriage, when they were hushed to perfect quiet by the appearance of the young couple, who advanced to a position beneath a beautiful horse shoe shaped wreath of flowers and evergreens, and were met by Rev. J. T. Barrow, who in well chosen words, pronounced the ceremony followed by a short invocation.

The same greetings and congratulations, after which not the least important matter was the most elegant supper on a well arranged table, where polite attendants supplied every want.

The bride's niece of Mrs. Caudle and sister of Mrs. G. H. Stowe. She is a very pretty girl, and has many graces both of head and heart. She wore a beautiful plum colored velvet dress.

The groom is a son of Mr. W. T. Stowe. He is a young man of excellent character, and nobleness of heart, in every way worthy the prize he has won.

Many handsome and valuable presents were given, among which were the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stowe, a handsome set of furniture, dinner set and lace curtains; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Stowe, china tea set; Mrs. T. W. Barker, water set; Mr. and Mrs. L. McKee, of Memphis, a handsome set of table linens; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Stowe, marble top hall stand; Prof. G. R. Troop, of Burkley, a beautiful globe lamp; Mrs. M. E. Rodgers, set of ice cream saucers; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stowe, marbleized clock; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henry, toilet set for washstand; Mrs. T. E. Caudle, Counterpane; Mrs. Lizzie Ellison, beaded watch pocket and pin-cushion; Mrs. Taylor Edwards, berry bowl; Mrs. S. R. White, preserve stand.

Mr. and Mrs. Stowe will in the near future, commence keeping house at their home, recently purchased of Esq. R. McElroy.

May they ever be happy is the wish of their friends. X X X.

Matrimonial.

Mr. Robt. Steele and Miss Josie Rutherford will be married this evening at the residence of the bride's mother on Campbell street. Mr. Steele is express messenger on the Nashville accommodation train and is a young man of exemplary habits and fine business qualifications. His intended bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Kate Rutherford, and is a pretty and accomplished young lady, who graduated from South Kentucky College in June, 1886.

ABOUT DEEP PLOWING.

The Best Way of Fighting a Long Drought or a Long Wet Spell.

In farming, as well as in dairying or grazing, every thing depends on the condition of the soil. Here is the foundation, and unless this is in proper condition the substructure is bound to fail. A great deal has been said and written as to the proper depth to plow, and there is such a difference of opinion among farmers in regard to it the question is still as far from being settled as ever. We think, however, that the leading cause for such difference of opinion may be found in the land itself. That good crops are and can be grown on shallow plowed land that is good, no one will deny, provided the season be neither too wet nor too dry—i. e., with moderate rains the whole season. In such a season any one can grow good crops. But such seasons are, and, in fact, every season is likely to be attended with a long drought or a long wet spell. Now what the farmer wants is to plow land that is good, and the only way to do it is to break up his land as deeply as possible—say not less than seven to ten inches. But how is this to be done? We answer, very easily. In case of a heavy rain a large portion of the water, instead of running off will be absorbed by the deeply disintegrated land, where it is held as it by a sponge for the use of the plants, and if a drought should intervene there is a supply of water just where the plants want it, and when exhausted its place is at once supplied by capillary attraction from below. It will thus be seen that by deep plowing the farmer provides against drought by having a supply of water in reserve, and a place ready to receive and hold it whenever it comes. The better to insure this, however, as well as to facilitate the escape of too much water, it is better to use a subsoil plow and an additional team, running the same immediately after the breaking plow, and ripping up the surface of the soil. This need not be done for every crop raised on the land, but only once in every three or four years.

It has been well said that it is better to have two acres of good land, one on top of the other, than many acres alongside of each other, as it costs only half as much to tend them. The way to do this is by deep plowing, and thus double the depth of the soil, as well as the crops grown thereon.—Western Plowman.

SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY.

—The rubber industry in this country affords employment to about twenty-five thousand workmen.

—One of the glaciers of the Kinehinjunga, a peak whose summit is 28,000 feet above the sea level, has a vertical height of 14,000 feet.

A large piece of meteoric iron has been found in a bed of tertiary lignite in Upper Austria. This is the first find of that sort in distinct geological periods, a proof that meteoric stones fell also in former periods of the earth's history.

—The Bo trees of Amaraopora, in Burmah, are about 2,170 years old, and it can be traced in historic documents as far back as 182 A. D. Other trees are believed to be older, African and Californian specimens being computed at 5,000 years, but there is no certain evidence of it.—Arkansas Traveler.

—An officer of the Bombay Civil Service who made a sojourn in Manchuria last summer, calls that region the Manitoba of Asia. "In the basin of the Hun river he collected five kinds of lily of the valley, and found whole hillsides white with the blossoms of that plant."—N. Y. Ledger.

—There could be no more impressive illustration of the rapid growth of the new South than the statement made by the Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, that the new enterprises organized in the South, the old plants renewed and the mills rebuilt represented a capital of $161,192,000 for the last six months, as against $63,618,200 during the first six months of 1886.

—Before the beginning of the historical period considerable skill in rope making had been acquired, so that it may be classed among the oldest of the arts. The existing relics of the ancient Egyptians include sculptures showing the process of manufacture practiced more than 4,000 years ago, while the oldest records of that people represent well-made ropes of great strength. Flax and the fibers of the date tree were employed for these ropes, but grasses and the hides of animals were probably among the first materials used.—Arkansas Traveler.

GRACEY GLEANINGS.

GRACEY, KY., Nov. 11.—We have a flourishing place and though it is probably not destined to be a Wichita or a Birmingham, its naturally advantageous situation insures that in a short time we will have a nice town—the site lying at the crossing of the new railway between Clarksville and Princeton, on the Hopkinsville and Cadiz road just midway of the "Big 4" points.

Several parties left here this morning to join the other members of the "Kentucky Hunting Club" in Clarksville on their annual Arkansas tour.

Our new depot, "which is a thing of beauty," will soon be ready for the reception of guests and freight.

Mr. R. S. Lander bade our town a sorrowful good-bye this evening. Having finished the grading of the side track at this place he goes to Newstead where he will be engaged the balance of this week. Bob impressed himself by his gentlemanly bearing on all alike during his two weeks stay here.

The Methodists have just closed a protracted meeting at Shiloh during which much good was accomplished. The friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McGehee were tendered a reception at their home last evening. Comment is not necessary, as those who have ever enjoyed their hospitality appreciate the pleasures of the occasion.

A pleasant rain fell last night which was a joy undisputed.

Mrs. H. H. Bryant returned yesterday from Bloomfield where, with her two little daughters, she spent a pleasant week at her old home.

Bryant & Wall, although they have just been opened since the 1st of October, are building up a confidence and trade commensurate with their deserts.

More anon, AGENT.
